Eligible Progression to Degree Level Study

Our International Foundation Programmes are designed to provide students with the preparation needed to excel at undergraduate study. With successful completion of the International Foundation Programme, and fulfilment of any additional conditions, students can continue at King's and study their undergraduate degree with us.

Please note, a separate application will need to be made for your intended progression degree at King's. For progression to Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing and other courses requiring interviews you will need to apply via UCAS. UCAS will allow you to apply for up to 5 course choices within the UK, but you need to contact other universities individually if you are planning on using a King's International Foundation Programme to see what their requirements are.

If you are intending to progress to any other course at King's you will need to make a separate application through King's Apply from January 2025. You will be able to apply for up to 2 course choices at King's. Applying directly through our system for progression allows for an easier application process with fewer details and sections to fill in and for a quicker assessment from our Admissions team.

The degrees you would be eligible to progress to from your Foundation pathway can be found by using our Foundation finder at the top of this webpage <https://www.kcl.ac.uk/international-foundation>.

Registration and Enrolment

You will be sent details of enrolment and registration within 4 weeks of the start date of your programme, as long as your offer is Unconditional Firm. This means you will need to have accepted your unconditional offer, paid your deposit and engaged with any visa processes. Please ensure that you contact us if any of your contact details change before you start your programme. Please note that unless your course specifies that attendance is via distance learning then you will be expected to attend campus on the days specified.

It is very important that you check the study pattern for the exact programme you have been offered, which is King's International Foundation Programme (Business & Economics) and inform the Admissions team as soon as possible if you have any questions regarding the study pattern. If you intend to fund your studies via a scholarship/sponsorship, it is very important you check with your sponsor whether the study pattern meets the funding eligibility.

Where an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check is not required to complete a programme of study, you are not obliged to inform the university of your criminal record.

You are encouraged however to disclose your criminal record if you are subject to any licence conditions or monitoring restrictions that could affect your ability to successfully complete your studies.

If you would like to discuss your criminal record for advice and guidance, you should send us a message via King's Apply in the first instance. More information regarding the university's disclosure policy can be found: www.kcl.ac.uk/governancezone/students/criminal-convictions-declarations.

You should be aware that other services at the university such as King's Residences, may have different policies and procedures in place regarding criminal record disclosure and you will need to adhere to these when using these services.

Securing your Offer with a Deposit

All applicants are required to pay a £5,500 deposit when confirming you wish to accept your offer. There is a high level of demand for a limited number of places on our programmes, and to ensure these are allocated to students who intend to join King's, we ask for a deposit when you Firmly accept an offer to study with us. This deposit is non-refundable in most cases (see exceptions below) and will be offset against your tuition fees when you join King's. Further details regarding deposits can be found in the Terms and Conditions. Your place is only secure once you have paid the deposit and there is a deadline associated with the payment.

Please read the following information carefully before deciding whether to accept your offer and pay the required deposit. If you have any queries please get in touch with us via King's Apply before accepting your offer. We very much hope you choose to study at King's this coming year.

How much must I pay?

The deposit amount is £5,500, which will be deducted from your tuition fee once you enrol.

When must I pay?

The deadline for acceptance will be stated in the Your Offer section of King's Apply. You should ensure that you review this deadline and please note if you fail to make the payment by this deadline your offer may be withdrawn in order to make a place available for someone else.

How do I pay?

Click on the Pay Now button on the Offer page of King's Apply (at the bottom of the Offer page) and you will be taken through to the payment screen. If you have any issues with paying via King's Apply you can also visit -

<https://www.kcl.ac.uk/student-fees/how-to-pay-my-fees>

Please indicate that the payment is a deposit payment by ticking the appropriate "undergraduate deposit payment" box and then pay by credit or debit card.

What happens if I do not pay my deposit by the due date?

Not paying your deposit by the stated deadline will be taken as an indication that you no longer wish to take up your offer of a place at King's and the offer will be withdrawn in order to make a place available for someone else.

I am being sponsored to study at King's – do I still need to pay a deposit?

If you can provide proof (before the deposit deadline) that an organisation will pay your fees at King's then you will not normally have to pay a deposit. Please contact us via King's Apply as soon as possible to inform us that you are being sponsored.

I am a US applicant applying for a FAFSA (Federal Student Aid) loan – do I still need to pay a deposit?

You should begin the process of applying for a FAFSA loan as soon as possible. Once we have confirmation that you have applied for a FAFSA loan, you will not be required to pay a deposit.

What happens if I decide not to come to King's – can I get my deposit back?

We will only be able to refund a tuition fee deposit in the following circumstances as outlined in our Terms & Conditions:

1. If you request a refund in writing within 14 days of the payment being received in our bank account.
2. If your UK student visa application is refused or rejected (we may need to request further information from you to confirm this before issuing a refund of your deposit).
3. If the programme you were planning to enrol on is withdrawn by King's.

You are strongly advised to make sure that you will have sufficient funds in place to finance your programme at King's before accepting the offer, as deposits will not be refunded on grounds of financial difficulty. Under the regulations governing distance selling contracts, from the date that King's receives your deposit, you have 14 days in which to change your mind and request a deposit refund. If you notify us in writing within this period that you no longer wish to take up your place at King's, we will decline your offer and organise a deposit refund. After that time, the deposit is non-refundable. Students are able to appeal the decision not to return a deposit. King's College London is committed to providing a high-quality admissions process in line with our admissions policies for all applicants. However, we recognise that there may be occasions when applicants to the university may have cause for complaint. The Applicant Complaints Policy outlines circumstances in which complaints can be made and will be investigated. There is an option to raise a complaint on your King's Apply account. You have 30 days after a decision is made to raise a complaint.

I haven't received a visa to study in the UK in time to start the programme – can I get my deposit back?

We expect all students to make suitable arrangements to ensure they leave sufficient time for their visa application to be processed by UKVI before the start of their programme, and always aim to provide eligible students with a CAS number in time for their visa application to be approved. However, if you are unable to secure a student visa before registration for your programme closes, we may be able to withdraw your offer and refund your deposit, if it can be shown that this was through no fault of your own.

Congratulations on your offer to study at King's, and we look forward to you joining us here at King's if you choose to accept it.

King's will shortly send you a personal invitation to meet our academic team and current students to find out more about your degree programme and studying at King's. If you live overseas, we will also be running a series of online events to give information and guidance about your arrival in London.

In the meantime you'll find more information about coming to King's on your dedicated offer-holder website - www.kcl.ac.uk/offer-holders/foundation

Yours sincerely,
